1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for an apparatus for applying acupressure therapy to a subject along with applying a magnetic field to the acupressure point, does not reasonably provide enablement for a reflector means used with the device. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The specification provides no support for the reflector having any use in connection with the device, since all language supporting the function of the reflector has been deleted. A reflector by definition is directed to something that reflects, however the specification now provides no enabling function for the reflector to reflect anything.

3. The amendment filed 04/19/2004 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The amendment deletes language directed to the function of the reflector, thereby leaving the reflector with no function with regard to the device and merely a cosmetic feature. The deletions are considered new matter since they change the scope of the original specification. As pointed out in applicant's remarks filed with the amendment (page 6, 2nd paragraph) "an amendment cannot change the scope of the claim beyond that supported in the specification and cannot change the disclosure in a way contrary to its substance as filed". Clearly the deletion of any function of the reflector to converge the magnetic energy to the focal point changes the disclosure in a way contrary to its substance as filed, since that was the only disclosed use of the reflector the reflector now has no disclosed use.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 11-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 11, line 4 recites "reflector means" however there is no function associated with the means as per proper means plus function language.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 4/19/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the device still has utility for providing a magnetic acupressure device for providing both acupressure and a magnetic field for magnetic therapy and therefore the rejection has been withdrawn. Applicant also argues that the specification provides an enabling disclosure to enable one skilled in the art to make and/or use the invention, while this may be true for enabling a device to provide acupuncture and magnetic therapy to the body, this is not true for the disclosure commensurate in scope with the claims. The claims still contain language including the reflector and as discussed above the specification is not enabling for language of this scope in the claims.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
